FLYING MODEL ROCKETS

The Estes catalog is the place to start for information on model rocketry. Its pages are packed with the latest in model rocketry products and technology.

The Estes catalog is your guide to an exciting program of flying model rocketry activities. Start with a basic starter outfit which includes a launch pad, launch controller, your first rocket kit, rocket engines, launch supplies and instructions. Then add to your collection with single stage rockets, scale models, interplanetary voyagers, multi-stage models, rocket gliders, military vehicles and other state-of-the-art products.

The Estes Skill Level coding system makes it easy and fun to build and fly model rockets designed for your level of experience and helps you advance to higher levels of expertise.

As we progress with our exploration of space and discovery of new technologies, there is always something new to learn. Join with us in discovering, learning and enjoying the exciting world of model rocketry at its best. You can be part of the excitement!

Sincerely,
Estes Industries

ATTENTION
 ESTES ROCKETEERS
 EDUCATOR REQUEST

Would you like to do your teacher a favor (and do a good turn for yourself at the same time)? Send us your science teacher's name and address, and we'll send him a free Estes catalog and a teacher's guide. This guide explains ways in which model rocketry can make the science class more fun. It shows your teacher how to provide exciting "space missions" in which you and your friends learn how the big rockets operate while you are building and launching your own model rockets. Simply include your teacher's name and school address, and your own name and address on the coupon below. Mail it today! Thanks!

Please send my teacher a free Estes model rocketry catalog and teacher's guide.
